Crain & Schooley makes commitment to the CPDMH fundraising campaign

Available for the cheque presentation were Mike Gagne, left, and from Crain & Schooley, Carleton Place; Patti Abrahams, Krista Cusson, Marilyn Muldoon, Linda Beiglee, Brenda Matthey, Bonnie Watters, Linda Hall and Peter Mast.

The Help Improve Tomorrow Today! campaign is pleased to announce that Crain & Schooley Insurance Brokers has donated $5,000 over five years to assist the Carleton Place & District Memorial Hospital in replacing needed medical equipment. In 2003 Crain & Schooley also donated $1000 to the CPDMH Foundation towards the Brick by Brick campaign organized to replace the Hospital's roof, windows and elevator.

"We understand the importance of the Carleton Place & District Memorial Hospital to the community and we wanted to do our part to help. Since our mission statement stresses the importance of being a good corporate citizen, giving to the hospital is a natural extension," stated Peter Mast, Vice President, Crain & Schooley Carleton Place.

In addition to the giving to the CPDMH, Crain & Schooley has also made commitments to hospitals in other communities where they are located. These hospitals are the Kemptville District Hospital, and the hospitals in Perth and Smiths Falls, all of which are also involved in major fundraising campaigns.

"In order for the Help Improve Tomorrow Today! campaign to be successful we need help and support from the business community," said Mike Gagne, CEO of CPDMH. "This contribution from Crain & Schooley is wonderful and we are very pleased that we can count on their support to help make our hospital better for the community."
